

GYOSHIL BK

< WORLD
SCHOLARS >

Using an interdisciplinary approach to test prep, combining in depth math, english, and science courses with improvisation, meditation, and clown classes simultaneously, we seek to create a curriculum that keeps students mindful and stimulated on the subjects they are learning. In short: we're making test prep fun!

OUR TEAM

We are a group of passionate, young professionals, who in addition to our professional careers have created this collective in our free time.

Among our team we have graduated from Yale, Columbia, and Harvard, with Masters degrees and PhDs in disciplines ranging from Computer Science and Medicine, to Acting and Theology. We are from Korea, Germany, Brooklyn, and Massachusetts. We work at Amazon, Microsoft, on Broadway, and in coffee shops.

Most of all we remember how daunting the slew of testing was when we were kids, and Gyoshil is our way to give back.
